

amccauley@woodsaitken.com
OMAHA (402) 898-7439

ADDISON C. MCCAULEY

Attorney

SERVICES

Labor & Employment

EDUCATION

University of South Dakota, B.A. (magna cum laude)
University of South Dakota, B.S. (magna cum laude)
Creighton University School of Law, J.D. (cum laude)

BAR ADMISSIONS

Nebraska

Addison C. McCauley concentrates his practice on labor and employment law. He counsels and represents public entities and private sector businesses on the full range of labor and employment matters, including due process requirements, grievance disputes, employment contracts, employment discrimination, employment accommodations, wage/hour regulations, and Family and Medical Leave Act issues. In addition, Addison advises and represents clients in all facets of employment litigation.

He knows that excellent client communication and careful case strategy are keys to successful representation.

Addison graduated from Creighton University School of Law, cum laude, with a litigation concentration. During law school, Addison served as Lead Articles Editor of the Creighton Law Review and competed as a school representative in the National Trial Competition and the ABA Arbitration Competition. Prior to law school, Addison graduated from the University of South Dakota, magna cum laude, while serving as the inaugural Chairperson on the Vermillion Human Relations Commission for the City of Vermillion, South Dakota.

AFFILIATIONS

Nebraska State Bar Association
Holy Name Housing Corporation, Board of Directors
Vermillion Human Relations Commission, Chairperson, 2018 – 2019

RECOGNITIONS

Best Lawyers: Ones to Watch®, Labor and Employment Law – Management, 2027